A couple of burglaries were yesterday reported to have taken place Sunday night. The Templeton barber shop was entered some time during the latter part of the night and a pair of hair clippers stolen. He left San Francisco Saturday night for Portland, and his return will be left to take him to Tacoma, and then down through Montana and Idaho to this city. He will give exhibitions in the numerous towns and it is very probable that he will win a few rounds for the sports here.

John Isaman, charged with assault and battery and destroying property, had a trial before Judge Weaver yesterday. The complaining witness was J. M. Hayes, residing at 215 South West Temple street. Hayes said that the defendant came to his place looking for trouble; that he did not receive any blows, but that he was hit on the head by a light, after a few moments afterwards, Isaman was found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $10 for the assault and $15 for destroying property.

DELEGATES RETURNING

Hon. J. L. Rawlins and W. H. Dale Arrived Yesterday.

EXPRESS THEIR VIEWS

BOTH ARE WELL SATISFIED WITH THE NOMINATIONS.

Next Saturday's Ratification - A Grand Parade in Which People of All Political Beliefs Will Be Invited to Participate - Mass Meeting to Be Held at the Theatre - Preparations for the Overhaul Made - Theatre Programme to Be Repeated on the Outside, the Miners' Float to Serve as a Platform - Committees Meet and Make Arrangements.

Hon. J. L. Rawlins, who returned from attending the Democratic national convention yesterday, was seen at his home in the evening by a Herald reporter. Mr. Rawlins was thoroughly satisfied with the nominations and remarked that it was one of the most interesting conventions ever held and appeared as if it was the dawn of a new era in American politics.

"The nomination of Mr. Bryan is in my opinion," said Mr. Rawlins, "the strongest that could have been made. He combines the different elements of the silver and Democratic parties better than any other candidate, and he will poll more votes than any other who could have been named."

"Will the Populists endorse him?" "I am confident they will and I don't believe there is any element in the silver party that will not support him. The Populists, when they hold their convention, will probably either nominate him themselves or endorse him."

"What action does it appear the gold Democrats will take?" "It is very uncertain what course they will pursue. There is a strong element who are wedded to Cleveland and gold and I rather look for them to make a nomination of some pronounced gold man. If they do, however, I will not endorse their ticket. It would draw from any of those who support Bryan, but would weaken McKinley by taking many votes which would otherwise go to him. The great mass of the Democratic voters will rally to the support of the Bryan ticket in all the states, and the Populists and silver Republicans will add their strength."

"The silver sentiment has made up the difference between the two parties, and all the indications are that it will continue to grow."

"What do you think of Sewall?" "I know very little of him, but he was nominated, but from what I heard of reliable sources he is of high character and ability. Coming from Maine, as he does, it takes away the charge that the ticket is entirely Western. He is a good silver man of long standing and I think his nomination is very good."

"What do you think of the chances for electing the ticket?" "I regard them as very good, and from conversations with the delegates from the different states it looks to me as if our ticket would be elected in November. Ben Cable concedes Illinois to the party of silver by 50,000 majority. Quite a number of the gold men towards the close of the convention were anxious to join in and support the ticket, but were held down by the unit rule. Finally, however, they broke away from the delegation except New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Connecticut."

"How will the nominations affect local politics?" "It ought to strengthen the Democratic party in Utah."

"It has been remarked that the general tone of the editorial utterances of the Salt Lake News are anti-Bryan, and after the McKinley nomination, the paper, in terms of considerable positiveness, predicted that the Republican nominee would be elected; do you think this has any significance, viewed from a local standpoint?"

"Yes, I have noticed the tone of the News is against Bryan. I expect the News will support the Republican ticket and the editor will be used on his behalf as in the last few campaigns, but I don't think it will succeed this time."

Councilman Dale.
Councilman W. H. Dale also returned from the Chicago convention yesterday morning wearing on his coat lapel a likeness of the "boy orator" and a 16 to 1 badge with the motto: "No compromise."

"It was a great convention," said Mr. Dale, "and one that will go down in history as the most remarkable in the past thirty years. The nominees? A better selection could not have been made. And right here let me correct a wrong impression which seems to be spreading. It is alleged that Bryan was not much talked about as a presidential candidate before the convention. This is all wrong. The fact of the matter is there was at all times a strong undercurrent in favor of the Nebraskaan. It was silver against gold from the very start. While all recognized the good qualities of Bland and Bole, and probably under different conditions one of these men would have been chosen, yet there was another factor. The aim of the silver faction was to unite the white metal forces and it was well known that Bryan would be least objectionable to the Populists."

"Do you believe the Populists and Silver Republicans will unite on Bryan and Sewall?" "There is no question about it. Bryan will poll the full strength of the silver movement and draw heavily on the young vote from Maine to California."

GOVERNOR VANCE HERE.
Bryan's Friend and Neighbor, But Opposes Him Politically.

Ex-Governor Vance, of Nebraska, who served two terms as chief executive of that state, from 1879 to 1883, is in the city and stopping at the Cullens. While a staunch Republican, a believer in the gold standard and a supporter of the McKinley administration, he is the kindest of friends to his neighbor and friend, W. J. Bryan. The Republicans will carry the state for McKinley.

SATURDAY'S RATIFICATION.
Nominations of Bryan and Sewall to Be Fittingly Approved.

The committees having in charge the arrangements for the ratification meeting to be held Saturday night to celebrate the nomination of Bryan and Sewall to head the Democratic ticket, and to tender a reception to the delegation which went to the convention from Utah, met yesterday and perfected arrangements as far as could be done up to last evening.

The committee appointed to select the most suitable place for holding the meeting, met in the morning and canvassed the various propositions put forward by those interested. The open space next the Knutsford hotel was measured and though it was found to be adequate to accommodate an ordinary crowd it was considered that the one which will assemble Saturday was such an unknown quantity that it was advisable to select a place where there could be no question of being able to entertain all who may turn out.

It was accordingly decided to select the Salt Lake theatre and provide for an overflow meeting in case the theatre was incapable of holding the attendance. In the latter event the overflow meeting will be held outside the theatre on the east side and the miners' float which cut so much figure in the procession during the carnival was secured to serve for a platform. On this eminently appropriate platform in same programme will be carried out as taken place in the theatre.

The committee on programme met in the evening at the offices of Baskin & Hope and outlined the plan of ratification. The speakers were decided upon but will not be named until it is known whether or not they can serve. It was decided to have a large number of speakers and allot ten minutes to each, the speakers to be as nearly as possible divided among residents of the city and out of town people.

WILL PARADE.
It was also decided to have a parade and to invite all advocates of silver to join irrespective of party affiliation. As that is the sort of ratification contemplated and a great number of citizens from all parties have already signified their intention of taking part, the parade is expected to be the biggest thing of the kind ever seen in Salt Lake. There will be a number of bands, a torch light parade and transparencies without number. In this latter connection, the committee desire that citizens send in mottoes or inscriptions appropriate to be painted on the banners.

Dr. Faust, of the committee who has charge of the parade end of the programme wishes to announce that the parade will assemble promptly at 7 o'clock in front of the postoffice on West Temple. The line of march will be north on West Temple to North Temple, thence east to Main, thence south on Main to Third South; east on Third South to the Knutsford, thence north on Third South to the theatre. Dr. Faust is desirous that any and everybody wishing to take part in the parade, assemble at the appointed place at the hour named. Societies in particular are invited to turn out and to send in their names and send notice to Dr. Faust of their intention to be assigned an appropriate position.

CITY TREASURERS' BOND.
Will the Municipality Be Able to Recover on It.

SOME TECHNICAL DEFECTS.
THEY MAY PROVE TO BE FATAL, HOWEVER.

City Attorney McKay Objects to One Clause in the Instrument - The Treasurer Requested to Furnish a New Bond.

The Bacon bank failure has been profile of interesting features, but according to a few developments which came to the surface yesterday the sensational is yet to come. In this particular instance it is not in connection with the management of the defunct institution, but rather the management of our municipal affairs. Briefly stated, there is a grave question whether the city can recover the money which Treasurer May had on deposit at the Bacon bank.

The facts, in substance, are that City Attorney McKay, who has looked after the city's interest in the endeavor to recover some of the lost cash, has come to the conclusion that the city's bond is defective in its text. In other words, the city's legal representative has raised a question whether the instrument is such that the city can recover a penny from the sureties, should they resist, to reimburse the city for its loss.

Last Saturday the attorney notified Treasurer May that he would have to give a new bond, the old being void. The treasurer, however, who is a surety, the sureties, being John E. Dooly and W. S. McCormick. The chief objection is to the binding clause of the instrument, which reads as follows: "That the John E. Dooly and W. S. McCormick, as sureties, are held and firmly bound unto the people of Salt Lake City, in the territory of Utah, in the sum of $200,000, to pay to the city of Salt Lake, the sum of $200,000, to be paid by the said John E. Dooly and W. S. McCormick, jointly and severally by these presents."

The attorney objects to the words "people of Salt Lake City, territory of Utah." The words "municipal corporation of Salt Lake City" should be substituted to make it binding.

The sureties contend that the council, which of course is interested, acting upon the advice of the city attorney, has ordered the treasurer to give a new bond. It will appear that there is an easy way out of this, and Mr. May at once started out to obey the orders of the powers that be, drafted a new bond, signed it and went to Messrs. Dooly and McCormick, to present sureties. Just what the result of the meeting was probably in many of its interesting features will never be known. It was learned from an authentic source, however, that the gentlemen refused to sign the new bond. Just why does not appear.

What the final result of it all will be cannot be definitely determined. It was the general impression that Dooly and McCormick would recede from their determination and sign the new bond.

THE "HERESY" SPREADS.
Kansas Populists Will Strongly Support the Democratic Nominee.

TOPEKA, Kan., July 13.-Conventions were held Saturday in forty-three counties to choose delegates to the non-partisan free silver convention which meets here next Wednesday to send delegates to the national convention at St. Louis. Democrats, Populists and Republicans participated in the meeting, and in every county the nomination of William J. Bryan for president was endorsed and delegates instructed to vote at the Topeka convention only for a man who will support his nomination.

SOLOIN ON THE RIGHT SIDE.
LEWISTON, Me., July 13.-Solon Chase, the originator of the greenback movement of 1864, and who has been spoken of for president on the Populist ticket, has declared for Bryan and Sewall. He advises the Populists to endorse them at St. Louis.

AFFAIRS OF THE COUNTY

Commissioners Held a Short Session Yesterday Morning.

REPUTATED WARRANTS

PETITION OF BUSINESS MEN WILL COME UP TODAY.

Additional Registration Officers Appointed - Ordinance Setting Aside South Main Street for a Boulevard Passed - The New Jordan Bridge - Routine Matters Disposed Of.

The county commissioners held a short session yesterday morning and considered such routine business as had accumulated during the week. The board will meet again this morning, when a large number of claims will be passed upon.

A requisition from the board of corrections for a survey of the state penitentiary, and the putting in of corner stones was granted, and the county surveyor ordered to make the survey.

Charles Buehler and two others petitioned to have the road across the northwest quarter of section 25, township 2 south, range 1 east, abandoned. The petitioners allege the road could be changed so as not to be of injury to them, having already sustained damage in the sum of $250.

The following additional registration agents were appointed: District 25-Jesse M. Fox. District 26-Reginald W. Anderson. District 27-Thomas Henderson, vice Thomas Aitken, removed on account of non-residence in the district. All the districts have now been supplied with registrars except Nos. 45, 46 and 47 in the Eleventh ward; Nos. 50 and 52 in the Thirteenth; No. 86, Brighton. These vacant districts will be filled as soon as the various precinct organizations send in names to select from.

The following ordinance setting aside South Main street for a boulevard was passed: "The board of county commissioners of the county of Salt Lake do ordain as follows: 'That that part of Main street, between Tenth and Twelfth South streets be and the same is hereby set apart for the use of light vehicle only, and all heavy teams and loaded teams are hereby prohibited from using or passing over said South Main street boulevard between Tenth and Twelfth South streets, except in cases where it is necessary for them to do so to procure access to property contiguous to and abutting on said boulevard.'

"Section 2-This ordinance shall take effect August 1, 1896."

The Andrews Bridge company handed in an explanation of their bid for the Jordan river bridge at Crescent. At the last meeting the company submitted two bids on different plans. One for $200, and the other for $350. In explanation the builders say the $350 bid was for combination bridge, superstructure only, all tension members wrought iron and all components of steel. The other bid was for an all steel bridge, steel tubular piers 24 inches in diameter, filled with first-class concrete. The matter went to the bridge committee.

The action of the county commissioners in repudiating the warrants issued to the Andrews Furniture company and the Macdonald Rock company has met with a good deal of opposition from some quarters. The petition of protest circulated so vigorously and signed quite numerous last week will be presented to the board today.

There are, of course, two sides to this question, and while the commissioners understand that many of those who signed the protest are interested in the matter, they also recognize the fact that the Andrews Furniture company and the Macdonald Rock company are holders of the paper, issued by the great county of Salt Lake. Such parties argue that to repudiate these warrants would not in any way injure the Andrews company or the Macdonald company, but would injure the innocent holders of the paper, issued by the great county of Salt Lake. Such parties argue that to repudiate these warrants would not in any way injure the Andrews company or the Macdonald company, but would injure the innocent holders of the paper, issued by the great county of Salt Lake.

TESTIMONY IN THE GEYSER-MARION SUIT NEARLY ALL IN.

Melchior Huggler Institutes Suit for Divorce - Eagle Foundry Company Files Answer to Supplemental Complaint of C. H. Withey - Miscellaneous Court Notes.

The hearing of the mining contest case of Matthew T. Gishorn et al. vs. the Marion Mining company was resumed before Judge Ritchie yesterday morning. L. U. Colbath, whose examination was commenced on Friday and who was so overcome with the heat that he was excused till yesterday, again took the stand and was examined by Senator Brown and cross-examined by Mr. Dickson without anything new being elicited. Mr. Colbath's testimony in the matter being the same as that given by other witnesses for the plaintiff.

Maynard Bixby was the next witness. Examined by Mr. Brown, he said he was an experienced miner for many years' standing and was acquainted with mines in Utah, Montana and other states and had made an examination of the properties involved in this suit. He said there were coal veins in the Marion property, one silver and one gold, both separate and clearly defined and with visible outcroppings. With his hands taken at twenty-one different places and found that it averaged 15-13 degrees. The dip was east of south and the strike north of east.

Cross-examined by Mr. Dickson his testimony remained substantially unshaken.

This closed the expert testimony in the case and Senator Brown said he expected to finish the examination of all witnesses for the plaintiff by noon today. Then there will be some rebuttal, which will occupy probably a day, after which the arguments will be expected to open about Thursday.
